ABOUT ME

I'm a hardcore Harry Potter fan and I also enjoy writing fanfic stories which you can read in wattpad. They mostly tackle about family relationships because I want to inspire my readers on how important the role of family is in their lives. I'm super close with my parents and siblings -- they're the reason why I persevere in life. Their support and understanding means the world to me. Other people may have a first impression of me that I'm indifferent (as an introvert, I'm just shy at first, really) but I don't mind proving myself to them.
